Van Schaick Ends Testimony In Senate School Inquiry; Dr. Neill to Appear Today

Committee Refuses Request to Permit Counsel for Witnesses — Moens Attacked as German Spy.

The special Senate committee investigating school conditions in Washington concluded its examination of the Rev. John Van Schaick, Jr., yesterday. And today will call Dr. Charles P. Neill, the last appointee to the school board.

The committee decided to call Dr. Neill next at his own request as he expected to be called out of the city. As Dr. Neill has only been a member of the school board for two months and has not been subjected to attack, it is expected the committee will content itself with a cursory examination of his knowledge of the school board controversy.

The fact that the committee also asked Mrs. Margarita S. Gerry and Mrs. Cora Cook to attend the hearing at ten o'clock this morning, indicates that they expect to detain Dr. Neill only a short time.

Counsel to Advise Only.
The special committee yesterday refused to grant the request of seven members of the school board, including Dr. Van Schaick, for permission to be represented by counsel in the further hearings. They may employ counsel to advise them but the counsel will not be permitted to interrupt or interfere with the course of the inquiry, the committee decided. Conrad H. Syme, former corporation counsel, was present, ready to act for the board if given permission.

The formal request of the seven school board members for counsel was signed by John Van Schaick, Jr., Cora Cook, Margarita S. Gerry, J. Hayden Johnson, Abram Simon, Susie Root Rhodes and Charles P. Neill.

Dr. H. B. Learned, another member of the school board, now lecturing on American history at the Leland Stanford University in California, may be summoned to Washington by the committee, it was indicated by Senator Sherman.

The Senator, in questioning Dr. Van Schaick, wanted to know if there was any connection between Learned's trip to California and the resolution calling for a Senatorial investigation of the schools.

Dr. Van Schaick declared that Learned left some time before an investigation was thought of; that he was under contract which he would be forced to break if subpoenaed to Washington, but that if the committee thought best, he might summon him. Senator Sherman said he thought that in justice to the board members, Dr. Learned should be present.

Moens Case Reopened.
The Moens case was reopened by Senator Harrison when, by his questions, indicated that Moens was in the pay of the German government, and that he had attempted to precipitate a race war in the District by carrying propaganda in the colored schools.

Dr. Van Schaick denied all knowledge of the implications and to each of the following questions, answered "no."
"Did you ever hear that Charlotte

DR. CHARLES P. NEILL.

Hunter, a former teacher in the colored schools, and associated with Moens, taught pro-Germanism written on the blackboard by the pupils favorable to Germany and against the United States.

You never heard that Moens had attempted to cause racial trouble between the colored people and the whites in this country?

On German Payroll.
"The records show," said Senator Harrison, "that this man was a German spy on the payroll of the Imperial government, at $300 a month from 1914 on."

Senator Sherman wanted to know if the fact that Moens came from Holland, which is now sheltering the former Kaiser, was not a suspicious circumstance and whether that had any influence upon Van Schaick's relations with Moens.

Van Schaick replied that he spent eight months in Holland during the war and that he found 55 per cent of the people pro-ally.

Chairman Sherman took the opportunity to serve notice on the school board that the appointment of former Governor Brumbaugh, of Pennsylvania, as superintendent of the District schools, "would be most unfortunate from a political point of view."

"You may take the information for what it is worth," said Senator Sherman. "Governor Brumbaugh vetoed a joint resolution to investigate the expenditure of moneys in his campaign and to find if a true or false report was made."

Senator Sherman then referred to previous testimony of Van Schaick that while engaged in Red Cross work in Europe he had acted as a guide for parties of Americans on the battlefield. He wanted to know whether it was not more important that Van Schaick remain in Washington to look after school matters.

Dr. Van Schaick replied that he considered the guide work as a mere incident to the larger work for which he went to Europe.

"If my conscience were as clear on everything," said Van Schaick, "as on my duty to go to Europe when I did, I would be very, very happy."

CLARK AVOIDS SENATE RACE

House Democratic Leader
Declines to Enter His Name as Candidate.

Champ Clark has decided not to "swap off the Democratic leadership in the House for the position of a new Senator."

"Betwixt the two," he announced yesterday in a statement addressed to the people of Missouri, "I prefer the House and believe I can render the people more service there."

The former Speaker's family and his close friends have advised that he should stick to the House. His political advisers believe this course will put him in a more advantageous position with regard to the Presidential nomination, for which he is a receptive candidate.

Clark's statement follows:
"I have never believed that a man has any moral right to enter a race for great office involving himself and his friends in a struggle of labor and turmoil without first viewing the landscape and considering the whole question. This is particularly true as to the Missouri Senatorship by reason of the large number of people who have written or spoken to me urging that I should become a candidate and proffering support."

"I have considered it from every standpoint as thoroughly as could be done at long range—as to my own feelings, as to my relations to the Democracy of Missouri, as to my relations to the National Democracy and as to the relative value of my services to the people in House or Senate."

"As a result I have concluded not to be a candidate for the Senate, thereby swapping off the Democratic leadership in the House for the position of a new Senator. There is a House habit with which I am thoroughly acquainted and a Senate habit with which I am not familiar. Betwixt the two I prefer the House, and believe I can render the people more service there."

Bryan Democracy Club to Hold First Public Meeting

The first public meeting of the Bryan Democracy Club of Washington will be held in Lafayette Hotel, 12th and I streets northwest, this evening.

Speakers will be Mrs. Marie M. Forrest, of the National Woman's Party; Mrs. Jesse C. Suter, of the District of Columbia Suffrage League; and Professor George H. Shibley, of the Bryan Democracy Club. Mr. Bryan may attend the meeting.

The Bryanites assert the principal plank of their platform will be legislation to reduce high cost of living, right of labor to bargain collectively, government ownership of public utilities, restoration of civil liberties, enforcement of the prohibition amendment, woman suffrage, the league of nations and Democratic taxation.

COAL REPORTS CAUSE DISPUTE

Federal Trade Commission Denies Its Statistics Are Hardship to Operators.

Denying that the making out of monthly reports dealing with every phase of the coal business has worked a hardship on coal operators and distributors, the Federal Trade Commission yesterday asked the District Supreme Court to dismiss the petition of the Maynard Coal Company, of Ohio, for an injunction to prevent the Commission from demanding such reports.

The coal company claimed the reports did not show true conditions with regard to the coal business and indicated that the work of getting up these reports was a nuisance. The Federal Trade Commission in its answer declares it has made allowance for peculiar conditions affecting the coal business and also that it overlooks "honest mistakes" concerning the cost of mining and distributing coal. Furthermore, the Commission states, in demanding these reports, it is acting within powers conferred upon it by Congress.

MARTINIQUE CLUB HOST AT DANCE

A popular crowd enjoyed the program of the Martinique Club dance Monday evening at the club's ball room at 2409 Sixteenth street northwest. It was the seventh successful dance of the club this season, and was largely attended. Jardin music was a big feature of the program and kept everyone in high-spirited mood.

Woman Awarded $350 Damages.

Cora Seals, colored, living in Fairfax County, Va., was awarded a verdict of $350 damages yesterday by a jury in Justice Hitz's court against Alexander Shuman, a colored man, 2301 M street northwest. The woman claimed Shuman struck her, July 6, 1918, during an argument over a pair of shoes.

SOLDIER BONUS BILLS DELAYED

House Ways and Means Committee Awaits Legion
Heads' Recommendation.

Decision to delay action on the soldier bonus legislation until after the American Legion's executive committee meets March 22 was made at a meeting of the House Ways and Means Committee yesterday.

The legion has called a meeting of its executives from the District, forty-eight States and the several Territories, for next Monday, to formulate a program of financing the adjusted compensation requested of Congress.

Although there was some opposition to any delay in deciding whether to report a bonus bill to the House, the committee voted to wait for the legion's program.

Leaders in a movement to report out a bill giving relief to ex-service men have been Representative Fordney of Michigan, chairman of the Ways and Means Committee, and Fear, of Wisconsin.

Its leading opponents during the hearings were Garner, of Texas, and Rulien, of Illinois, aided by Kitchen, of North Carolina, and Hull, of Massachusetts.
